Democratic Nominee for U. S. Senator (long term) will address the Voters of Madison County at RICHMOND, KY., SATURDAY, OCT. 24, AT 1:00 P. M.

Arbor Day Nov. 6, Says The Governor.

Gov. McCreary has issued the following proclamation:

"I, James B. McCreary, Governor of the Commonwealth, do issue this proclamation, designating Friday, November 6, 1914, as Arbor Day for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, and request its observance by the planting of trees and such other exercises as may be deemed proper.

"The attention of all the people, and especially the teachers and pupils of all the colleges and schools, is called to the importance of planting trees. Every proper effort should be made for the renewal of our forests.

"In the last decade there has been great development along forestry lines in the United States. The inauguration of forest management in the national forests, the activity of various States in public forestry and the interest of private owners in tree growing have resulted in marked improvement in everything connected with forestry. There are now a number of colleges in the United States where forestry is included in the curriculum. In the last few years there has been a constantly increasing activity in the forestry of the various States, and now 30 States have some kind of organization for forestry work.

"I call upon the people to give more attention to the observance of Arbor Day in Kentucky than has been given heretofore. I not only desire students of all the colleges to take active part in the setting out of trees, but the pupils of every common school in the State could render immense service by each of them setting out one tree on Arbor Day.

"School house yards, home yards, public roads, pastures and fields should be beautified with trees. Our natural forests are diminishing and we must not only save what is left of the forests, but must re-forest the cut-over, the burnt-over and the unforested districts of the State."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, Pale Death, with impartial footsteps knocks alike at the door of the poor man's hut and the palaces of kings, has again invaded our community and summoned to the farther shore one of our true and noble christian women, Mrs. Elizabeth Wines, on September 30, 1914, after a protracted illness of several months; therefore, be it Resolved, That we, the members of Normal City Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias, of Richmond, Kentucky, fully recognizing the great fundamental truth that "a boy's best friend is his mother," and also realizing the sad and irreparable loss sustained by the devoted son, Bro. E. C. Wines, who is a loyal member of our illustrious order, and who has twice come, in so brief a period, to that chasm which alone the soul can explore—by the loss of both father and mother within three months' time—we, therefore, tender our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to him in this his hours of deepest sorrows.

Resolved, That in the great loss our beloved brother has sustained, we recognize the frailties of human life and the certainty of death, and for him who has been deprived of a mother's love by the insatiable archer—Death—we have only words of deepest sympathy to offer; sympathy for those who mourn; tears for the dead.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved son—our brother; same be spread upon the minutes of our lodge, and also published in one of the local papers.

Brinegar-Jones.

We have received a copy of the St. James Journal, published at St. James, Phelps county, Missouri, giving a long account of the marriage of Mr. J. P. Brinegar and Mrs. Eliza M. Jones, which was solemnized in the Christian church in St. James, on the 6th day of October, Elder J. W. Steen, officiating.

Captain Brinegar was a soldier on the Federal side in the Civil War, having been enlisted from Estill county, and was regarded as a brave soldier. After the war he went West, where he has accumulated quite a great deal of property. He is now serving his second term as the head of the Old Soldiers Home, having been appointed to that position by Governor Folk.

His bride is a worthy woman, who came to West Plains some five years ago. The paper says: "Mr. Brinegar and bride make a handsome elderly couple and they are held in high esteem by all. Their friends, and they are legion, join in wishing them a long life of increasing happiness to the end."

Mr. Brinegar is well known in this and Estill county, and his many friends will be glad to know of his very fortunate marriage.

Moonlight Schools.

The Illiteracy Commission appointed by Governor McCreary, of which Mrs. Stewart is the chairman, is putting forth great efforts to attract the attention of the people to the moonlight schools, which have been instituted throughout Kentucky. It is hoped that 2,000 schools may be started, and that the illiterates may be taught to read and write. The school teachers and the press have rendered valued assistance in that direction. Too much cannot be done in the furtherance of this commendable work.

However, if the Legislature will only remove the law which prohibits an adult from attending the day schools, there would be no necessity for the moonlight schools, because the day schools can accommodate the adult illiterates.

There was never any sense in prohibiting a man who had passed the age of twenty from attending the public schools. Indeed, they have a law on the book now which requires children between the ages of 6 and 20 to attend school, and yet, strange to say, they have a law prohibiting one who has just passed the age of twenty from attending such institutions. This last law should be repealed by all means. An infant does not know the value of an education, and it's only after he has come in contact with the world that he sees the necessity of it. Then he finds that he is prohibited from attending the public school. He may not be able to attend private schools and thus he continues in ignorance.

The law should be amended and illiterates should be required to attend school until they can read, write and cipher. The old rule of three is a very good one. It is the duty of the State to rid itself of the stigma of illiteracy. It can never do this by moonlight schools. They will attract attention for a little while, but they will soon die away.

The night schools have been with us always, but when you call it "moonlight" school, it creates a ripple which in a very short time will exhaust itself and be seen or heard of no more.

The State should be ashamed of itself for having a law on its statute books which denies to an adult a second chance to gain an education in the day schools.

If you receive two papers, also telephone us and accommodate us by handing the paper to some friend who does not receive it. Thus you will accommodate us, yourself and some one else.

Please send us the name of some absent relative to whom you would like us to send sample copies. It will afford us pleasure to do so.

If there is a poor family in your neighborhood who does not receive any paper and who are unable to pay for one, will you not kindly send us their names? Sometimes we have papers left over that they might enjoy.

It is our earnest desire to serve the people to the best of our ability and you can help wonderfully in this work if you will make it a point to give us the news. We have a stenographer for this express purpose, so call her and give her news items. Call 659 and ask for Miss Doty.

Braves Win Championship.

The Boston Braves won the world's championship in base ball by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games in the world's championship series. Beginning with their rush from last place in the senior league in the middle of July, the Braves have broken traditions and records in the national sport with speed and abandon during the last three months, and they now emerge as champions of the universe.

Smallpox Raging.

Smallpox is said to be raging along the Dickenson county line, Kentucky-Virginia border, east of Whitesburg, there being a large number of cases. The physicians report the disease to be in one of the worst forms, and that section will be quarantined against the outside world in order to keep the epidemic from spreading.

You spend lots of time in bed—have a nice easy one

Dear Amy:—Everyone should go to bed happy and get up happy. Then they work better and earn more. I feel truly sorry for people who are able, but either too stingy or too careless to buy beautiful beds and bedroom furniture. John goes to his bed humming a tune and gets up whistling. I have such a nice room for him. That's why he is such a success in business.

With love, Lou.
